This is your homework for this week , you must complete one challenge from each column . Remember to read each day too
Your homework must be finished by Oct 12th

English	Maths
Write your own adventure story set in the Jungle.	A printer prints birthday cards on sheets of card. The printer needs to print the following: 20 sheets of 16 cards 12 sheets of 8 cards How many cards will be printed? Show your working out to prove your answer
Write a short descriptive story about an adventure in the jungle using this plan: Beginning: You are successfully exploring the jungle. Middle: You find yourself stuck in quicksand. End: You manage to escape with the help of an animal.	A team of 11 footballers are each given two new pairs of boots. Each pair of boots has 16 studs. How many studs are there altogether? Show your working out to prove your answer
Imagine that you are on an adventure in the jungle and have discovered a new species of plant. Write a letter home describing what it looks like and any special features that it has.	A teacher asks her students to arrange chairs into 5 rows of 8. How many chairs are laid out altogether? Show your working out to prove your answer.
Imagine that you are on an adventure in the jungle. Write a description of what you can see, hear, smell, taste and how you feel.	A teacher asks her students to arrange chairs into 5 rows of 8. How many chairs are laid out altogether?
Imagine that you are going on an adventure in the jungle. Write a list of what you would take in your backpack.	Write out and practice all the 2, 5, 10 times tables. Explore what patterns you can see.